

it's super easy
connect with graduates
& students directly through CareerHub Central

Connecting employers, universities and students

Over 90% of Australian Universities and over 2.1 million of their students and graduates use CareerHub. The CareerHub Central website links them all together so you can add or update your vacancies and organisations' information in one place and distribute to all universities at once.

What is CareerHub?

CareerHub is the software used internally by Australian, New Zealand, UK and South African universities to manage their distribution and advertising of jobs, employer information, careers events, careers appointments, information sheets and other related content to their students and graduates.

What is CareerHub Central?

CareerHub Central enables you to quickly distribute your vacancies, graduate or vacation program information, contact details and your organisations' profile directly to Australian universities' own internal CareerHub Systems.

CareerHub Central is:

- the fastest way to publish your vacancy information to universities
- the most targeted way to reach the exact audience for your graduate roles
- the largest and most active student/ graduate network in Australia
- the only way to get your vacancy information into multiple universities' own internal CareerHub systems in one process
- integrated with the universities' student authentication, so you can be sure you are reaching only the right audience
- the easiest way to ensure that all universities have your latest contact details
- established for over 13 years
- fast, efficient and user friendly.

The largest and most active
Australian student and graduate career network!

2.1 million
students and graduates

CareerHub Central cracks 2.1 million registered student and graduate job seekers!

We are thrilled to announce that the number of registered Australian students and graduates using CareerHub nationally stands at 2.1 million.

CareerHub is the largest and most active student/ graduate network in Australia and New Zealand. CareerHub still retains its focus, advantage and uniqueness as the software used by universities to communicate jobs and career-related information to their students.
